

PEOPLE IN THE NEWS

★ ★ ★

William Francis Raborn, a retired

Navy vice admiral, won Senate confirmation yesterday as new head of the Central Intelligence Agency. Raborn, a native of Decatur, Tex., who helped develop the Navy's Polaris missile system, has been a vice president of Aerojet General Corp. in Pasadena, Calif., since his retirement from the Navy in 1963.

★ ★ ★

CPYRGHT